Please arrive no later than 7:15, as the boat will sail shortly thereafter with or without ticket holders (refunds will not be granted for late arrivals). If you have any questions, please contact Mike Kass '01 at mkass01@gmail.com.

Friday, September 14

6:30-8:30pm
The Arts Club of Washington
2017 I St NW
Washington, DC

Join the Ivy Singles for their Happy Hour Fall Kick-Off!

Explore two floors of spacious rooms at the charming historic landmark, the James Monroe House, where monthly exhibits of paintings and photography line the walls.

Relax with old friends and meet new ones. A good selection of appetizers will be served, and happy hour drink prices will be available for the duration of the party at the cash bar.

When Timothy Caldwell, a wealthy businessman from Philadelphia, decided in 1806 to build "the handsomest house in the Capital City," little did he dream that it would one day serve as home for President James Monroe, ambassadors foreign and domestic, the nation's first weatherman, and the city's oldest club devoted to the arts.

Inspired by London's Chelsea Arts Club and the National Arts Club in Manhattan, Washington artists created their own club in May 1916 and purchased the Monroe House as its home. With a focus on painting, sculpture, music, and drama, the Arts Club provided a contrast to Washington's more traditional clubs. It was also the first club in the city to admit women as charter members.

Register online at <https://cornellclubdc.org/event-2993401> or send $40 check payable to Cornell Club of Washington to:
Steve Piekarec
2535 West Meredith Drive
Vienna, Virginia 22181

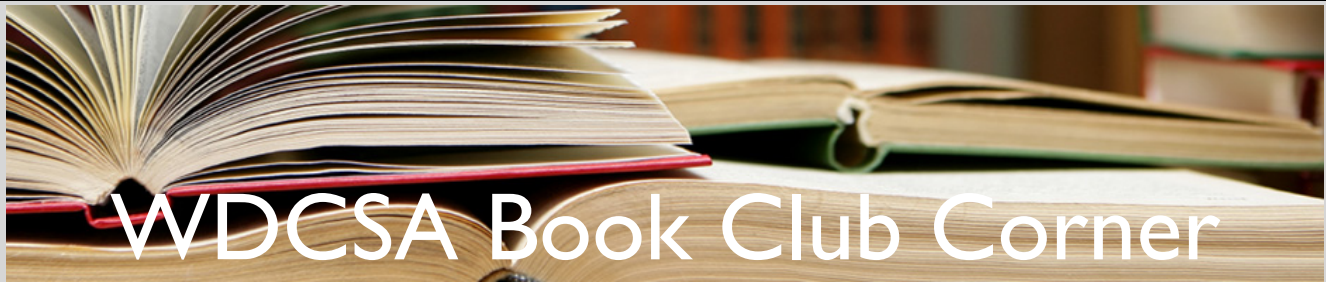

Have your payment postmarked by Tuesday, September 11th and note your school on the check. Walk-ins are $45 at the door (cash or check).

Washington DC Book Club Discussion
Sunday, October 14 5-7:45 pm
 Washington, DC

The book group will discuss How Democracies Die by Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt.

The book tells how Harvard professors Levitsky and Ziblat believe that history shows us that democracies end with a whimper: the slow, steady weakening of critical institutions, the judiciary and the press, and the gradual erosion of long-standing political norms. Levitsky and Ziblatt show how democracies die—and how ours can be saved.

To join the discussion and participate in the potluck dinner, existing members should RSVP to Ann Cowgill '82 at ann.m.cowgill@gmail.com. New members, please contact Ann for details.

Baltimore Book Club Discussion
Monday, September 17 7:30 pm
 Mother's Federal Hill Grille
 1113 S. Charles Street
 Baltimore, Md

The September selection is Beneath a Scarlet Sky by Mark Sullivan. This book is rated 4.8 out of 5 stars by almost 20,000 Amazon readers. This is a historical fiction based on Pino Lella, who, at the age of 18, spied for the Allies, while serving as the personal driver to Hitler's left hand in Italy.

The November selection is The Lost City of the Monkey God by Douglas Preston.

Questions/RSVP: Helene Myers, Ph.D., P'14, at cedarhouse@comcast.net.

Streamed Live From The Kennedy Center!

Saturday, September 29 Gates Open at 5pm; Opera Starts at 7pm

Nationals Park
 1500 South Capital St SE
 Washington, DC

Celebrate the 11th season of FREE opera broadcasts at Nationals Park for Rossini's 'Barber of Seville'.

When was the last time you went to the opera? Whether it is recently or never, come join us for one of the best "free" events in DC - Opera in the Outfield. Watch one of the most beloved operas of all time: a comic tale of intrigue, love and deception, in Italian with English subtitles.

Gates open at 5 pm for pre-opera activities including a Costume Shop, instrument 'meet and greet', games, prizes and more.

Join the conversation on social media with #OperaInTheOutfield! There are no reserved sections so come and sit in the stands or on the field.

Contact bettybyrne@stanfordalumni.org or 202.483.4048 for more information.

Get Involved
Join the WDCSA Board

<http://www.wdcsa.org>

Interested in getting involved with the local Stanford DC community?

WDCSA is looking for alumni interested in volunteering in the following ways:

- Social Media Chair
- Community Service Chair
- Cardinal Young Alumni Committee

If you are interested in any of these roles and would like to learn more, please contact Kevin Coyne, MS '02, at kevin.coyne@stanfordalumni.org and Patricia Arty '10, patriciaarty@alumni.stanford.edu.

OVAL Training

OVAL is hosting a training session for alumni interested in meeting and interviewing Stanford applicants on Thursday, October 11th at Stanford In Washington. More details to come in the next newsletter. For further information, contact: Margaret "Maggie" New, maggiene10@gmail.com.

Co-ed Basketball

Calling all Cardinal alumni! Join the WDCSA co-ed basketball team for the 2019 basketball season. We compete against other local alumni chapters in the DC metro area from January - March. Games are played in Alexandria, Virginia on weeknights. It is a good opportunity to meet fellow alumni and get a good workout. Contact Greg Billings '88, at billings.g@gmail.com for more information.

Stanford In the News

Akshay Venkatesh, a professor of mathematics at Stanford University, has won the 2018 Fields Medal, the highest honor in math. Venkatesh joins Stanford mathematicians Maryam Mirzakhani, who won in 2014, and Paul Cohen, who won in 1966. Professor Venkatesh's research focuses on synthesis of analytic number theory, homogeneous dynamics, topology, and representation theory.
